LITERATURE

COUCHES MADE OF WOOD WITH BRONZE MOUNTS WERE USED IN CLASSICAL TIMES FOR SLEEPING, READING AND WRITING AS WELL AS FOR DINING AND THE ENTERTAINING OF GUESTS. THIS WAS DONE IN A RECLINING POSITION WITH THE LEFT ARM LEANING ON CUSHIONS AND WAS A CUSTOM ADOPTED FROM ANCIENT GREECE. THIS BRONZE MOUNT WOULD PROBABLY HAVE BEEN APPLIED TO THE UPPER END OF A CURVED ARM REST CALLED A 'FULCRUM', THE THUMB PERHAPS A VOTIVE REFERENCE TO DIONYSUS, THE GOD OF WINE AND GOOD LIVING. IT MAY HAVE BEEN USED AS A CONVENIENT HOOK FOR CLOTHING OR WEAPONRY.
