LITERATURE

FROM THE TIME OF THE LATE 18TH CENTURY THE LARGER WHALING SHIPS OCCASIONALLY MADE PORT IN THE PORTUGUESE AZORES. HORTA IS SITUATED ON FAIAL ISLAND. THESE BIGGER SHIPS WERE PERMITTED LONGER VOYAGES AND AFTER AROUND 1800 EXPEDITIONS OF UP TO THREE, FOUR AND FIVE YEARS WERE THE RULE RATHER THAN THE EXCEPTION.

KNOWN AS THE 'ART OF THE WHALE-MEN' WHALING SCENES WERE SCRIMSHAWED BY ACTUAL WHALERS AND ALTHOUGH ARTISTICALLY NAÏVE, THEY ARE CHARACTERISED BY THEIR SOPHISTICATED TECHNICAL KNOW-HOW MANIFESTED IN THE ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE MANY DIFFERENT FACETS OF THE HUNT. SCRIMSHAW DEPENDED UPON THE ENGRAVED AND POLISHED WHALE'S TOOTH AND IT WAS THE AVAILABILITY OF THESE THAT PROMPTED THE WHALE-MEN ON BOARD SHIP TO PAINSTAKINGLY DECORATE THEM WITH SCENES FROM THEIR LIVES AT SEA.
