LITERATURE

THE KOBAN CULTURE 1100 TO 400 BC IS A LATE BRONZE AGE AND IRON AGE CULTURE OF THE NORTHERN AND CENTRAL CAUCASUS. IT IS NAMED AFTER THE VILLAGE OF KOBAN WHERE IN 1869 MANY BATTLE AXES, DAGGERS AND OTHER ITEMS WERE DISCOVERED IN A 'KURGAN' OR BURIAL MOUND. THESE AXE HEADS WERE OFTEN FOUND IN GRAVE SITES AS THEY WERE EMBLEMS OF POWER AND PROBABLY HAD A CULT SIGNIFICANCE. USED IN PERSONAL COMBAT THEY WERE DECORATED TO INTIMIDATE AN ENEMY. THREE CLOSELY HATCHED RIBS STRENGTHEN AND ADORN THE OUTER SIDES OF THE SHAFT-HOLE AND THE BLADE SURFACE IS CAREFULLY CHISELLED WITH FINE ABSTRACT LINES; IT IS CHARACTERISTIC OF THE BEST OF THESE STYLISED AXE HEADS.
