

Finch & C^o

AN ANCIENT KINGDOM OF URARTU EASTERN ANATOLIA TURKISH BRONZE LOST WAX CAST SECTION OF A BELT PLATE
DECORATED WITH SNARLING LIONS

AN ANCIENT KINGDOM OF URARTU EASTERN ANATOLIA TURKISH BRONZE LOST WAX CAST SECTION OF A BELT PLATE
DECORATED WITH SNARLING LIONS

CIRCA 860 – 590 BC

SIZE: 14CM HIGH, 19.5CM WIDE - 5½ INS HIGH, 7¾ INS WIDE

AN ANCIENT KINGDOM OF URARTU EASTERN ANATOLIA TURKISH BRONZE LOST WAX CAST SECTION OF A BELT PLATE
DECORATED WITH SNARLING LIONS

CIRCA 860 – 590 BC

SIZE: 14CM HIGH, 19.5CM WIDE - 5½ INS HIGH, 7¾ INS WIDE

LITERATURE

THE IRON AGE KINGDOM OF URARTU WAS CENTRED AROUND LAKE VAN IN THE HISTORIC ARMENIAN HIGHLANDS, BUT AT ITS HEIGHT THE KINGDOM STRETCHED NORTH BEYOND LAKE SEVAN AND INTO THE SOUTHERN PART OF PRESENT DAY GEORGIA ALMOST TO THE SHORES OF THE BLACK SEA, WEST TO THE SOURCES OF THE EUPHRATES AND EAST TO

TABRIZ AND LAKE URMIA AND SOUTH TO THE SOURCES OF THE TIGRIS. RISING TO POWER IN THE MID 9TH CENTURY BC, THE KINGDOM WENT INTO GRADUAL DECLINE AND WAS CONQUERED BY THE IRANIAN MEDES IN THE 6TH CENTURY BC.

THE ART OF URARTU IS ESPECIALLY NOTABLE FOR ITS FINE LOST WAX CAST BRONZE OBJECTS WHICH INCLUDES WEAPONS, HELMETS, FURNITURE FITTINGS, FIGURINES AND HUGE CAULDRONS THAT WERE USED FOR SACRIFICES. THE SINGULAR TYPES OF JEWELLERY PRODUCED BY THE ANCIENT KINGDOM INCLUDE THESE DECORATED BRONZE BELT PLATES EXCLUSIVELY FOUND AMONG THE RICH FUNERARY EQUIPMENT IN THE TOMBS OF THE URARTIAN RULING CLASS. HOWEVER, RELATIVELY LITTLE OF THEIR JEWELLERY HAS BEEN FOUND, THE ASSYRIANS HAVING BOASTED OF LOOTING IN GREAT QUANTITIES FROM MUSASIR IN 714 BC.

PROVENANCE

EX COLLECTION OF THE LATE SEWARD KENNEDY

ACQUIRED 1970'S LONDON ART MARKET

CF: A SIMILAR BELT PLATE IN THE GERMAN MUSEUM FÜR VOR UND FRÜHGESCHICHTE. INV. NO. XLC4876